She will do a full spectrum review of that office and may want to meet with the Faculty Senate or Executive Committee for information. Dr. Anderson asked the Senate for their cooperation, and solicits ideas and concerns. Dr. Anderson's office currently handles commencement as well as scheduling. Other institutions have the Registrar's Office handle these two items and she would be happy to shift in that direction.

Dr. Anderson mentioned Dr. Duane Gardiner had a consultant review and give advice on the Study Aboard program. The Senate is invited to submit a collective pool of ideas for the study abroad program if they wish to do so.

Dr. Anderson has started meeting with the Council of Chairs on the last Friday of each month.

Discussion in that meeting took place regarding faculty evaluations.

Suggestions regarding a formative and summative evaluation of faculty teaching were made as well as ideas for giving peer feedback.

The current evaluation of teaching is focused on student evaluations and Dr. Anderson wants chairs to begin thinking about other methods.

Dr. Anderson opened the floor for questions.

Dr. Ryan Paul posed a question unrelated to Dr. Anderson's presentation but rather on security cameras, as his department asked him to raise this issue:

- Dr. Anderson replied that question should be directed to Dr. Terisa Riley's office as the undertaking is under her division.

Dr. Paul said faculty members want to know how the cameras will make the campus safer and how will the data be processed and will it be stored. He asked, "Could this information be subpoenaed?"

- Dr. Anderson replied that these were good questions and it would be better for Dr. Riley to answer them.
- Dr. Paul will forward the department's list of questions to Dr. Anderson for Dr. Riley.
- Dr. Anderson referred to changes in the Clery Act by the Department of Education and noted that security camera installation may be an effort to better align with that.
- She also stated that students have expressed feelings of being unsafe on campus.

Dr. Elizabeth Janzen stated the previous Provost (Dr. Rex Gandy) had discussed changes regarding the teaching load to reflect a greater emphasis on research (a 3x3 option).

- Dr. Amit Verma replied that there is interest, and exploration into this topic will begin.
- Dr. Anderson stated that when she interviewed for this position and was visiting the campus, the item that struck her was that this campus was teaching first. The Faculty Handbook states excellent teaching. That is our campus mission and Dr. Anderson wants to see the evaluation of teaching where we can better reward faculty and show that teaching is valued.
- Dr. Anderson is looking at a Provost teaching awards.
